

SPECIAL MOVIES FOR TIMES NEWSBOYS

"The Battles of a Nation" to Be Shown for Them Friday
Evening at Casino Theater.

This piece of news is especially interesting to Times newsboys. It is important because it is the first announcement of a real treat which the Times has arranged for every boy who sells the Times between now and Christmas. "The Battles of a Nation" is the moving picture which is appearing this week at the Casino. This picture is a very remarkable one because it was taken on the battlefields on which the warring nations of Europe are fighting. They are real pictures of real fighting and were taken under conditions most dangerous to the camera men. That is the kind of a picture that appeals to live American boys such as sell the Times.

The Times has arranged to send every one of its newsboys to the first evening performance on Friday evening. The pictures will be displayed particularly for the boys, and the Times has arranged for seats from which every boy will get a good view of everything that appears on the screen.

Remember, boys, that this is the treat of the Times, and has been arranged especially for you. Details of when and where you will get tickets, what time you are to be at the theater, and other details will be told you tomorrow. These are the finest war pictures of the year, and you are going to be able to see them without any cost.

MOTHER STRANGLES GIRL WITH NECKTIE

Constant Worry Over Daughter's
Welfare Is Cause of Tragedy,
Father Says.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 22.—With the same necktie with which she attempted to take her own life Sunday, Mrs. Minnie Schmitz, forty, today strangled her seventeen-year-old daughter, Gertrude, to death, according to the police.

George H. Schmitz, carpenter, was awakened early today by his wife shouting in his ear: "I've killed Gertrude!"

Schmitz ran downstairs to his daughter's room. Lifting the body of the girl, still warm, removed the tie from her neck, and tried to revive her. It was too late.

When the police arrived Mrs. Schmitz was weeping in an upstairs room. She was taken into custody on a temporary charge of suspicion.

The mother and daughter, Schmitz said, had quarreled violently. Mrs. Schmitz upbraided the girl for going out nights and for the company she kept.

Gertrude was vivacious, pretty, and had a host of friends.

"My wife could not understand Gertrude's desire for youthful companionship," Schmitz said. "She brooded, thinking her daughter would be led into improper ways. My wife did not know what she was doing. I am certain her mind has given away."

Schmitz told the police that last Sunday his wife had attempted to choke herself to death, but that he prevented her after a struggle.

Domestic Troubles Cause Mother to Kill Her Baby Girl

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 21.—Becoming suddenly insane today, Mrs. Ralph Leibfried killed her two-year-old daughter, Katherine Margaret. The child was playing on the floor when the mother seized a butcher knife and cut her throat.

Mrs. Leibfried had been worrying over domestic troubles and is said to have attempted to kill her entire family, consisting of three young children, last week. She is twenty-eight years old.

Learned Serbians At Bari After Long Flight

BARI, Italy, Dec. 22.—More than 100 leading Serb artists, sculptors, literary men, professors and members of parliament arrived here today, having fled from Serbia across the Albanian mountains on foot.

They reported that King Peter is now the guest of King Fahir, ruler of Albania, but will come to Italy within a few weeks.

$15,000 Garter on Girl Is a Chicago Dazzler

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 22.—Merchants of the nineteen-story Republic building at State and Adams streets have formed what is called the Republic Merchants' Association, with the object of "getting together," "boosting their neighbor," "patronizing the building," which is a small city in itself.

The organizing was featured with many novel booths—the management of the building turning over an entire floor for the fair—and costume effects. Each member exhibited something from his or her shop. The most startling exhibit was that of a jeweler, whose model wore $150,000 worth of jewelry. Miss Jean Huddleston had on a jeweled garter consisting of 1,200 Oriental pearls, 200 diamonds mounted in platinum and worth $15,000.

SIX INDICTED FOR WAR "LABOR" PLOTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Six indictments, it was reported this afternoon, have been voted by the Federal grand jury investigating the alleged pro-German activities of the organization known as Labor's National Peace Council. The indictments, it is understood, will be returned late today. They will charge conspiracy under the Sherman act, alleging that the men conspired to foment labor troubles, particularly in plants engaged in manufacturing war munitions for the allies.

It was rumored about the Federal Building that persons of some prominence would be named in the true bills. The Federal officials today decided to turn over to State authorities all evidence against Frederick Schindler, the German clerk who was accused of stealing documents from the National City Bank for German secret service agents.

FOOD INSPECTORS SAY XMAS CANDY IS PURE

Over-Indulgence, However, Is Dangerous, in the Best of Foods.

Washington children, as well as the grown-ups who have a sweet tooth, may enjoy their Christmas candy without fear of its being adulterated. For the last month the food inspectors of the Health Department have been purchasing samples of candy for analysis in the chemical laboratory. The result of such investigation, the department states today, is eminently satisfactory. Most of the samples collected have been of the cheaper variety. The more expensive kinds, however, have not been neglected.

"The analyses show that the candy is particularly free from adulterants," says the department's weekly bulletin. "They have included an examination for dangerous mineral coloring matters, none of which were found, the coloring being principally harmless dyes. The cheaper candies and some of the more expensive are composed largely of glucose, flavored and colored as desired."

Other inspections, the department states, have shown that the quality of food on the market this year is particularly good. Having seen that the food is wholesome, the department advises against overeating during the holidays. "Since injurious effects may follow over-indulgence in the best of foods."
